Exposing the beauty in the in-between

OPENING STATEMENT

STORY-LED PHOTOGRAPHY FOR

whole-hearted families

I am here to honour this season in your family's unique story - the whole range of feelings: the soft and the pretty, the chaos and the giggles, the tantrums as much as the triumphs.

These are the moments you will want to look back on. The ones quietly shaping who you are, long before you'll know to call them your favourites.

ABOUT ME

Hello, I'm Cam.

A Brazilian turned British, mum to two wonderful and very, ahem, assertive little girls, and someone who's happiest paddleboarding, at a sound bath, or turning the kitchen into a dance floor with the kids.

My passion for photography was rekindled back in 2019, when after our wedding my husband and I decided to go on a year long trip to explore the world. I picked up a camera to document our journey and it never really left my hand again. Coming home and starting our family changed everything. Motherhood propelled me into a new understanding of life. My priorities shifted, my perspective of success was no longer the same. I was, and still am, finding a new me - and somewhere in there, I started photographing my own kids, desperately trying to hold onto every stage before it disappears.

That's exactly why I do this now. I know these years don't last, because I'm living it too.

MY APPROACH

MY APPROACH

What's important to me

One of the most joyful things about raising my own family is watching my daughters' personalities take shape. Every day they surprise me, becoming more completely themselves.

That is exactly what I want to capture in your session: your personalities, your unique story. The expressions, the closeness, the deep unbreakable bond.

I want you to look at these photographs one day and feel exactly what it felt like to be here.

During our time together

I want your session to feel like an ordinary day, not a performance. I am not there to direct every moment, just to keep pace with it, while you get on with being yourselves.

Little ones have a way of making magic out of the most mundane things. My job is to notice it and hold onto it. The mischief, the giggles, the cuddles, the love you can see in a single look.

I always give our sessions plenty of time so nothing feels rushed. Along the way, I will gently guide things here and there, but what I am really doing is creating a register of your love, and who you are, in this exact season of your life.

What I won't be doing

- Telling you to stay still or hold a pose. I am capturing things as they actually happen, so the whole session flows rather than becoming a sequence of set-ups.
- Using generic props. I will encourage you instead to bring sentimental things: a toy your little one really loves, a blanket knitted by a family member. The things that really matter, nothing is ever just for show.

IF YOU FEEL LIKE WE'RE A MATCH

Working with me looks like this:

1. Reach out - Tell me a little about your family and what you are hoping for. I'd love to hear about it! I aim to reply within one working day, and we will find a date together that works for you and for me.
2. Confirm your date - Secure your date with a £75 booking fee - the moment that turns "maybe" into "it's happening"! I will send over a short booking form and contract straight away, so all the practical bits are out of the way early and we can focus on the fun part.
3. Getting to know you - I will send over a short questionnaire so I can get to know your family a little before we meet: your story, your quirks, what makes you, you! Prefer to chat instead? Just say the word and we'll hop on a call.
4. A little planning - I will check in with you beforehand about location, timing, and anything on your mind so you feel confident and prepared, never caught off guard. We will talk through the practical things too, like what to wear (heads up: no strict wardrobe rules here). And if anything comes up before the big day, just message me. I am always on hand.
5. The big day - This is it! Up to two hours together, capturing your family exactly as you are (newborn sessions get a little longer, up to three hours, so there's plenty of time for feeds, settling, and extra cuddles along the way).

6. The big reveal - I will carefully select and hand-edit your images, and within two weeks of your session, you will get a private online gallery to look through and choose your favourites. Fair warning: this bit gets emotional.
7. Select your images - Download your favourites straight from the gallery, whenever suits you. Fallen in love with more than you expected? You can upgrade your package, buy the full gallery, or order prints to have and hold, not just scroll past.

The balance is due before your images are delivered, but you can pay it any time between booking and delivery, whatever suits you.

Collection Three	5 hand-edited images, 1hr session	£250

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What if it rains, or someone's poorly? No stress at all! We simply find a new date. Life with a family is unpredictable, and I plan around that, not against it.

What should we wear? Whatever feels like you. I will happily talk this through beforehand if you want a steer but there's no dress code here, just comfortable and true to your family.

Do we get the raw, unedited images? No, every image you receive has been through my own hand-editing process, so you get a consistent, polished set.

Do you photograph outside of Hertfordshire? I also photograph in London and I am always happy to travel further, although a travel fee will apply.

What's the minimum spend? There is no pressure to spend beyond your chosen package but if you fall in love with extra images in your gallery, you are welcome to add them on.

What if we feel a bit self-conscious in front of the camera? Completely normal, and it always settles. I'm not looking for perfect poses — I'm looking for you, being you. Most families tell me they forgot I was even there halfway through.

Can I see a full gallery from a session, not just the highlights?

Of course! I am always happy to share a full set from a real session, so you can get a proper feel for what a whole gallery looks like. Just get in touch to request.

Do I need to tidy the house before an in-home session?

a lived-in home is exactly what makes these photos feel like you. It just helps to clear a little space to move around in, and tuck away anything that adds mess rather than character (laundry piles, yes — toys on the floor, not a problem).

How long until we see our photos? Within two weeks of your session. I will carefully select and hand-edit every image myself before your private gallery is ready.
