Exposing the beauty in the in between

OPENING STATEMENT

STORY-LED PHOTOGRAPHY FOR

wholehearted families

I am here to honour this season in your family’s unique story — the whole range of feelings: the soft and the pretty, the chaos and the giggles, the tantrums as much as the triumphs.

These are the moments you will want to look back on. The ones quietly shaping who you are, long before you’ll know to call them your favourites.

ABOUT ME

Hello, I’m Cam.

A Brazilian turned British, mum to two wonderful and very, ahem, assertive little girls, and someone who’s happiest paddleboarding, at a sound bath, or turning the kitchen into a dance floor with the kids.

My passion for photography was rekindled back in 2019, when my husband and I decided to go on a year-long trip to explore the world. I picked up a camera to document our journey, and it never really left my hand again. Coming home and starting our family changed everything.

Motherhood propelled me into a new understanding of life — and somewhere in there, I started photographing my own kids, desperately trying to hold onto every stage before it disappears.

That’s exactly why I do this now. I know these years don’t last, because I’m living it too.

MY APPROACH

What’s important to me

One of the most joyful things about raising my own family is watching my daughters’ personalities take shape. Every day they surprise me, becoming more completely themselves.

That is exactly what I want to capture in your session: your personalities, your unique story. The expressions, the closeness, the deep, unbreakable bond.

I want you to look at these photographs one day and feel exactly what it felt like to be here.

During our time together

I want your session to feel like an ordinary day, not a performance. I am not there to direct every moment, just to keep pace with it, while you get on with being yourselves.

Little ones have a way of making magic out of the most mundane things. My job is to notice it and hold onto it. The mischief, the giggles, the cuddles, the love you can see in a single look.

I always give our sessions plenty of time so nothing feels rushed. Along the way, I will gently guide things here and there, but what I am really doing is creating a record of your love and who you are, in this exact season of your life.

What I won't be doing

- Telling you to stay still or hold a pose. I capture things as they actually happen, so the session flows rather than becoming a sequence of set-ups.
- Using generic props. Bring the sentimental things instead — a toy your little one really loves, a blanket knitted by a family member. Nothing is ever just for show.

IF YOU FEEL LIKE WE'RE A MATCH

Here's how simple it is:

1. Say hello — Share a little about your family, and we'll have a relaxed chat - who's who, what you love doing together, and what feels right for you.
2. Save your date — a £75 booking fee makes it official (it comes off your balance). I'll take care of all the practical bits from here, and I will check in before the session about location, timing, what to wear, and anything on your mind. I am always on hand, and you will never be left wondering what happens next.
3. The session — At home, in the woods, wherever your family feels most yourselves. Games, cuddles and snack breaks are all part of the plan.
4. Your story, told — Within two weeks, a private gallery of hand-finished photographs will be with you - the big laughs and the in-between moments - ready to choose and download your favourites.

The balance is due before your images are delivered — pay it any time between booking and delivery, whatever suits you.

YOUR SESSION

One session, one price — because you're not choosing a package, you're choosing a photographer.

Every session — £250

- Up to two hours together, in your home or a location you love
- A private online gallery to choose from, within two weeks
- Your favourite 5 images, hand-edited and download-ready

Fallen in love with more than five? After your gallery arrives, you can add 5 more images for £100, or upgrade to the full gallery (15–20+ images) for £200. No pressure, no minimum — most of my favourite images in any gallery are ones families didn't know they needed until they saw them.

INTRODUCTORY OFFER

To celebrate launching this business, my first 10 families book the same session for £150 — everything above, at £100 off. After that, it moves to my standard £250.

Payment schedule:

A non-refundable £75 booking fee secures your session date.
The balance will be due before your gallery is delivered.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What if we feel a bit self-conscious in front of the camera?

Completely normal, and it always settles. I'm not looking for perfect poses — I'm looking for you, being you. Give it twenty minutes of being ignored by me in the nicest possible way, and the camera stops mattering.

What if the kids won't cooperate?

That's exactly what I expect, and I plan for it. The in-between moments are usually the best ones anyway.

What if it rains, or someone's poorly?

No stress at all — we simply find a new date. Life with a family is unpredictable, and I plan around that, not against it.

What should we wear?

Whatever feels like you. I'll happily give you a steer beforehand, but there's no dress code here — just comfortable and true to your family.

Do I need to tidy the house before an in-home session?

A lived-in home is exactly what makes these photos feel like you. Just clear a little space to move around in, and tuck away anything that adds mess rather than character (laundry piles, yes — toys on the floor, not a problem).

Can I see a full gallery from a session, not just the highlights?

Of course — just ask, and I'll share a full set from a real session so you can see exactly what to expect.

Do we get the raw, unedited images?

No — every image you receive has been through my own hand-editing process, so you get a consistent, polished set.

Do you photograph outside of Hertfordshire?

I also photograph in London, and I'm always happy to travel further (a travel fee applies).

FINAL PAGE

The love, the giggles, the cuddles, the chaos, their little personalities just bubbling up. This season won't last forever — but it can be held onto, exactly as it is.

I'd love to be the one to hold onto it for you.
